Firebirds to Gather in Galveston

By Nolan Bailey
Firebird Association Historian

It's difficult for one to believe that, at the next reunion, ten years will have passed since the Firebirds first flocked to Biloxi in 1998. Counting the first Firebird Association reunions held in Abilene during 1982, 1983, and 1984, there will have been a total of nine reunions including the upcoming 2008 gathering.

Those that attended the Branson reunion during 2006 will recall that the reunion sites proposed at the general membership meeting were Wright-Patterson, Nashville, and Abilene. So, how did Galveston become the site for the next Firebird gathering? "It's elementary, my dear Watson." Well, perhaps not too elementary after all.

According to the minutes from the Branson reunion members interested in these particular sites were to research each location and send the results to the planning committee. Months passed and no information was presented.

As the decision date grew near, Firebird Chuck Lavoie traveled to the Biloxi area and visited twenty-six different hotel properties. And, he contacted several caterers and collected their menus. Only one hotel he found would meet the Firebird requirements.

A week or two later, the reunion planning committee met in Bossier City to discuss the next reunion and to determine the suitability of Shreveport/Bossier as a reunion site. No hotel met the Association's hospitality room requirement.

left Bossier and drove directly to Biloxi to visit the one motel that Chuck recommended. After the visit they decided that Biloxi would not be ready for at least two years.

This left no site on the table until someone suggested Galveston. The newly formed Troop Carrier-Airlifters Association recommended the site and had held their reunions there for the last two years.

Bruce and Betty spent a few days in Galveston, were impressed, and asked John Parker and Nolan Bailey to make a visitation to Galveston, and to present a report upon their return home. Both members of the visitation team recommended the new site after staying at the suggested reunion hotel, and touring the area with Mrs. Sheri Teller, the Galveston CVB representative.

The next reunion will be held at the LaQuinta Inn and Suites, 8710 Seawall Boulevard, Galveston,

Texas 77554, Phone: (409) 740-9100 Fax: (409) 744-0782. For more information on the reunion and the reunion hotel please visit the Firebird Association Website using <http://www.firebirds.org/reunion/reunion.htm>

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Dear Firebirds,

As your president, I have attempted, with the help and support of the dedicated and ever present Board of Directors, to put together a reunion that you will enjoy and remember for years to come. There is something at this location for everybody and that's the way it should be.

It has been said that "The Island" is a tour by it's self with it's old stately homes, it's unique seawall, art, museums, international sea port, a ferry crossing, lighthouse, it's down town Strand shopping area, many historic statues, it's own tall ship, "Elissa" and on and on. Galveston was selected because of it's diverse and long influence on history plus it's many attractions. The island is owner of some of the best preserved Victorian architecture in North America and it is open for tours. With it's 32 miles of sandy beaches and coastline, it's usually mild temperatures, it's almost constant sea breezes and relatively level terrain, walking or just relaxing comes very easy.

Wonderful seafood restaurants are a gracious plenty, it has regular restaurants and fast food corners, a Randall's Super Market, Wal-Mart, a major hospital and burn center all within a 5 mile radius. If they just had a commercial airline..... O' well....guess you can't have everything, but we tried.

One of the worst natural disasters in U.S. history occurred on this island in 1900 when a hurricane came ashore and took over 6000 lives, mostly residents. Many of the old homes and buildings survived and are open for public viewing today.

With so many places to go and things to see, making tour arrangements very difficult, we decided to put together a package of "Things to do in Galveston" and send it to each family registered for the reunion. This give you an opportunity to look over and decide at your leisure what you would like to do and see while visiting the island.

Most group-tours have to be pre-paid and this would be very expensive for our organization with no guarantee of return if the tour falls apart. We are still looking and should an arrangement be worked out, you will be inform of it in the January newsletter.

There has been a great amount of interest in a NASA Space Center tour, but here again, the $600 up front transportation fee that's required with no guarantee of return, makes your board just a little nervous. The space center is about 25 miles north of Galveston, easy to get to and directions will be included in your package. The tour take about 5 hours and you should plan to have a snack or meal at their snack bar.

One thing that we do have signed and sealed is the banquet. The Garden Restaurant is one of the most beautiful spots on the island. It's wall of windows overlooks the veranda and Offats Bayou. The story goes, that when early Texans took the ferry across to the island to fish or just spend the day on a picnic at the beach, they would tell the pilot to just let them off at the bayou, and that's how Offat Bayou got it's name.

The city has a million stories and that is just one of them. I sincerely hope that each of you has a memorable reunion, because really, YOU are what it's all about!!!

Enjoy,

Bruce P. Huff

The Raven Gang at Galveston?

Rumor has it that the 109th is sending a LC-130 to Galveston for a static display for the Firebird reunion. So why doesn't a large crowd of Ravens come down to Galveston and join the party. It seems silly to send a empty airplane from New York all the way to Galveston Texas. How many Ravens can you put in a Herky Bird?

Hope to see you in Galveston.

Historian's Homily

In less than six months the ninth Firebird Association reunion to be held in the last twenty-six years will become a reality. At the first Biloxi reunion the Firebird Association Board of Directors voted to hold a reunion every even year. The intent is for this to become a tradition, but the continuation of any reunion depends upon the active participation of current and prospective members.

For the last several reunions the slogan has been “If you build it, they will come.” In 1998, 270 members attended, and this year the mission is to fill all 120 rooms at the Galveston LaQuinta Inn and Suites with a Firebird Association member. Another excellent reunion is being built. Standard rooms at the LaQuinta have been reserved at a special rate of $70.00 per night plus tax. If you’ve been thinking of attending, please make your room reservations soon. Around the first of March, all unreserved rooms must be returned to the hotel for rent at their regular rates, which are usually over $100.00 per night.

If you’ve never attended a Firebird Association reunion, let this be your first. It promises to be “an affair to remember.” If you came to the last gathering, consider visiting with old friends once again. I’m sure that there will be many new faces in attendance this year. Your “being there” will make the reunion complete for someone else. This kind of “networking” will make this reunion a success, and insure that there will be many future reunions to attend.

In one of the best baseball films ever made, a Field of Dreams, an Iowa farmer played by Kevin Costner, hears a voice one day that says, “If you build it he will come.” Then, Costner builds a baseball field in his corn patch, so he can watch his heroes return from the grave and play. In fact, this motion picture is not just for baseball fans and soft touches. It’s also for those who have experienced loss and want, just for a few minutes, to dream of regaining that which has been lost—of having the chance to say what one has always wanted to say to someone but didn’t. In that respect, Firebird reunions are the same. Our reunions allow one to step back in time and regain and share with friends, just for a few hours, those special memories that formed so many years ago. At the end of the movie, Kevin Costner’s character asks his father, “Is there a heaven?” and his father answers, “Oh yeah. It’s the place dreams come true.” All of the Firebirds should gather in Galveston and help build a little bit of “heaven.”

For the most part, the long hours, and out-of-pocket dollars spent in planning a reunion are not very rewarding. Planning a reunion is hard work and, not to mention, time consuming. The payoff comes for a reunion planner on reunion day, when dozens of Firebird Association members show up in the hospitality room, and make it all worthwhile. It is more than enough "payment." Please let Galveston planners know how successful they have been, whether or not there should be any future reunion, and how well their work is valued, by doing your very best to attend this reunion.

If one has never visited the area, Galveston is a small romantic island tucked deep within the heart of south Texas possessing all the charm of a small town. The island has 32 miles of relaxing shoreline and is surround with incredible history and unique tranquil beauty. So, come to Galveston and enjoy the sights, sound, succulent seafood, soothing sea breezes, sandy seashore, splendiferous palm trees, and seductive serenity of "Biloxi West."

A registration form and tentative schedule of events for April 6-9, 2008, has already been posted on the Firebird Association Internet site (WWW.firebirds.org). If you plan to attend, and just haven't committed yourself to date, please sign up soon. The planning committee can make better plans as soon as they have a good count of attendees. With warmest regards....

Nolan Bailey, Firebird Historian

Normal room rates are over $100 per night during April, but General Manager Willis Gandhi of the La Quinta Inn and Suites is setting up a special price of $70.00 per night for all "standard rooms," which are not a suite. Two-room suites will be priced at $109 per night. This special rate does not include state and local taxes of approximately fifteen percent (15%).

Be sure to inform the reservations clerk that you want the special Firebird Association room rate--Group Code: Firebird Reunion

All rooms have been reserved for the Firebirds at this price; first come, first served. Additional nights are subject to availability--just ask when registering.

According to the hotel, the special group rates apply before and after the reunion dates. Therefore, please make reservations at your earliest opportunity. Note that three different Firebird Association members, and their wives, have traveled to Galveston to check this property and have recommended it for our reunion.

A consideration in choosing this property was the hospitality room, and hotel approval for the Association to serve its own beverages and snacks.

The La Quinta Inn & Suites is located just three miles from the center of the island city of Galveston. The hotel has a sparkling outdoor Swimming Pool and a relaxing Hot Tub, plus a Fitness Center for use at one's leisure. Every morning, guests may enjoy a tasty complimentary Continental Breakfast served up by the courteous staff in the eating area off of the hotel lobby.

Please make an effort to attend. The hotel manager has promised to give the Association all available space in the hotel for hospitality purposes if most of the rooms are reserved by Firebird Association members. There are 120 rooms in the hotel, so lets make it our goal to fill them all with Firebirds.
